

Czechs Will Urge UN to Avoid Debate

By WILLIAM N. OATES
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP) — Czechoslovakia is expected to urge the U.N. General Assembly to avoid debate on the Soviet-led invasion while the nation's leaders negotiate in Moscow for a withdrawal of occupation forces.

Czechoslovakia's acting foreign minister, Vaclav Pleskot, is listed to address the 125-nation assembly today in its general policy debate. He is expected to make the appeal.

A plea went out from Prague Thursday night for Czechoslovakians themselves—particularly students—to do nothing to hinder the task of the leaders at the Kremlin.

"Every chain is as strong as its weakest link," Education Minister Vladimir Kadlec said on Czechoslovak television. "Students, make sure you are not that weakest link... The government is meeting your demands as much as it can... Don't make the task of our leaders more difficult."

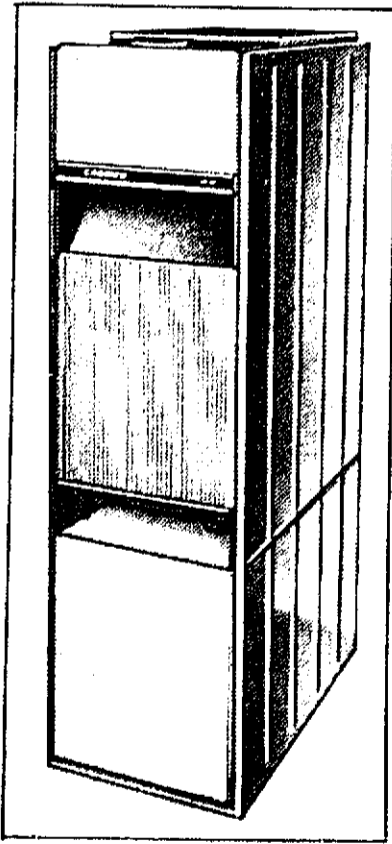

Pleskot took over his functions last month when Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek quit under Soviet pressure and Premier Oldrich Cernik became the nominal foreign minister.

Pleskot got his turn to speak here while Cernik and Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek were in Moscow for the latest talks on "normalization," meaning withdrawal of the Soviet, East German, Polish, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops in Czechoslovakia since Aug. 20.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko were planning a second talk despite their differences over Czechoslovakia, stated in the general debate.

U.S. officials told reporters that Rusk and Gromyko would have dinner together Sunday night. They said the two had only touched on the Middle Eastern question in their first meeting Wednesday night and would have a real discussion of it Sunday and go on to other subjects.

dressed Yippies of the Youth International Party.

One antiwar witness walked out of the hearing, another refused to answer questions about whether he is a Communist and a Yippie leader was arrested after he showed up in a shirt that police charged was made from an American flag.

Abbie Hoffman denied the charge and said it was merely a shirt of stars and stripes design. Hoffman's wife, Anita, and another Yippie, Brad Fox, also were arrested for interfering with police. Authorities also reported arresting a girl for having a dirty phrase about the police printed on her hat.

Dr. Quentin B. Young of the Medical Committee for Human Rights, was the witness who refused to answer whether he is a Communist. He said the question was irrelevant and that the First Amendment to the Constitution protected him from having to answer such inquiries.

Another witness, Robert Greenblatt, national coordinator of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War, refused to answer several questions and then stalked from the committee room.

The subcommittee also listened to testimony from a Cook County, Ill., police investigator who infiltrated the Yippies during the convention.

Robert L. Pierson said he worked his way in as a personal bodyguard to Jerry Rubin, a Yippie leader.

He quoted Rubin as saying all the candidates should be killed and the government toppled.

Pierson told the subcommittee that the violent overthrow of the government was the mutual goal of the Yippies, Students for a Democratic Society, the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Viet Nam and the Black Panther party.

Pierson said the groups wanted to disrupt the convention, embarrass Mayor Richard J. Daley, gain sympathy from the news media during confrontations with the police, and win the support of liberal delegates to the convention.

Lockesburg School Case to Court

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has been asked to order the consolidation of the white Lockesburg school district with a Negro school district at Lockesburg.

Attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Inc. made the request Thursday on behalf of Sevier County Negroes.

The attorneys said the high schools in the two districts are only one-half mile apart and that the white district "virtually encircles" the Negro district.

The attorneys said buses of each district travel the same roads and each school graduates far less than the recommended minimum of 100 pupils per high school class.

They also said that maintaining one of the schools as an elementary facility and the other as a high school would improve education. LDF attorneys contended that Sevier District No. 1 "has purposefully been maintained" as an all-Negro district.

Dedication of River Project

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A director of the Tennessee Valley Authority says the Arkansas River navigation project will aid in the development of the Arkansas River Basin along the lines of the Tennessee Valley and that the project represents a victory over the skeptics.

Don McBride of Knoxville, Tenn., made the remarks Thursday night at a reception and dinner honoring the congressional delegations from Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

He said the creation of the TVA and resulted in an increase in per capita income and an increase in investment by private industry.

"All this makes possible better schools, better roads and better homes," he said. "The economic strength it has added to the region can be judged by the fact that net outmigration of the region's youngsters, who once sought opportunity in other parts of the country, has come virtually to a halt."

"The same challenge and the same opportunity now lie ahead for the people of the Arkansas valley region," he said.

"Today we can look back on the taunts of some of our skeptical writers, who wore threadbare the terms 'pork barrel' and 'boondoggle,'" McBride said. "But the skeptics lost; the requirements he would set for a chief justice of the United States, now that President Johnson has withdrawn his nomination of Abe Fortas to take that post.

Nixon said he does not care whether a man is a Democrat or a Republican, a liberal or a conservative. He said he wants a chief justice who will interpret the law and leave it to Congress to write laws.

"I want men who will interpret the Constitution strictly and fairly and objectively, and that's the kind of man I intend to appoint," he said.

He said some men on the court now meet his qualifications. He did not identify them by name. But he said they are among the justices who dissent from decisions on the rights of criminal suspects, rulings Nixon has criticized.

"Some of those are strict constitutionalists and therefore would fit my ideas as to who might be a judge of the Supreme Court and may be a chief justice," Nixon said.

Three of the four dissenters from the decisions Nixon has criticized are still justices. They are John Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron White.

men of faith prevailed and today we have a new waterway, a new pillar of economic strength."

McBride said Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Kla., had been the cocaptains of the congressional team which had been instrumental in the navigation project.

McClellan is scheduled to make the major address today in the dedication of the David D. Terry Lock and Dam and the commemoration of navigation on the Arkansas from the Mississippi River to Little Rock.

McClellan was called on to make the principal speech after President Johnson announced "with very real regret" that he would be unable to attend the ceremonies.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., Gen. William F. Cassidy, chief of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and Dr. J. W. Hull of Russellville, president of the Arkansas Basin Association, are also scheduled to be on the program.

Several thousand persons are expected to attend the ceremonies.

The Terry Lock and Dam, 10 miles downstream from Little Rock, is one of 17 locks and dams being built to make the Arkansas navigable and to form 11 reservoirs to prevent floods, provide recreation areas and water for hydroelectric power production.

The river already is navigable in its lower sections in a chan-

No injuries were reported in Thursday's incidents. Students burned three streetcars in front of the Aztec Stadium where Olympic soccer games will be played, and fled before police made any arrests. Hit-and-run gunmen fired apparently random sprays of bullets in various sections of the city.

A noise bomb, which did no damage, exploded on the eastern side of the city, so far untouched by the sporadic violence that has occurred since the students went on strike two months ago, charging government repression and police brutality.

Besides armored cars at the Plaza of Three Cultures, there were other signs of continued unease.

The Mexican Olympic organizing committee placed a police guard inside its office. The Olympic teams of several nations ordered curfews for their athletes. Soldiers stood guard at some Olympic sites. Wallace Team Satisfied With Response

By JULES LOH

Associated Press Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A new and widely known running mate at his side, behind him a fatiguing, five-state courtship of the industrial Midwest labor vote, George C. Wallace relaxed his presidential campaign today apparently satisfied with the response to both.

Retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay listened stoically to prolonged applause in two cities Thursday as Wallace introduced him as the vice presidential candidate of the American Independent party.

Wallace said he was "pleased and gratified" at the receptions given LeMay.

In both Indianapolis and Toledo, telegrams from around the country greeted Wallace, complimenting him on his choice of LeMay.

Many of the messages strengthened the belief among Wallace strategists that LeMay would add stature and legitimacy to Wallace's third party race for the presidency.

"Gen. LeMay's candidacy gives us a very strong ticket," said Wallace, whose hard line on Vietnam won the endorsement of the decorated and outspoken former Air Force chief of staff.

LeMay's candidacy reopened a dormant political debate; whether nuclear weapons should be used in war.

At a news conference in Pittsburgh announcing his candidacy, LeMay stated this view:

"My desire is not to use any weapons. But once the time comes that you have to fight, I would use any weapon that we have in our arsenal that is necessary. I do not believe nuclear weapons are necessary in Vietnam."

In his speeches at Toledo and Indianapolis, with LeMay on the platform, Wallace repeated his long-spoken avowal that, should peace negotiations fail, the Vietnam war "should be concluded militarily with conventional weapons."

He also said in an interview that he and his running mate see eye to eye on the issue of nuclear weapons.

He said LeMay had told him privately that a third world war "would destroy civilization" and the best way to avoid it was to have a defense posture superior to any other nation's.

But no candidate ought to tell an enemy in advance, Wallace said, that America would rule out possible use of nuclear weapons in any circumstance. LeMay stated the same position at his news conference.

For the past five days Wallace has stumped five states of the Midwest, convinced, as he said in Toledo Thursday night, that "regardless of what some labor leaders tell you, we do have the support of organized labor in our state and elsewhere in the nation."

Enthusiastic crowds met him at every stop. Thursday 8,000 gathered at a baseball stadium on a chilly night.

Charges Jones Director of Accused Firm

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ed Allison, the Republican candidate for state Land Commissioner, charged Thursday that the Democratic incumbent, Sam Jones, was a director of the Atlas-American Oil Corp., which has been accused of selling unlicensed stock.

Texas state Securities Commissioner William King issued a cease and desist order Feb. 21, 1966, prohibiting the sale of Atlas-American securities in Texas.

Allison called Jones' involvement with the firm "only one more evidence of his many abuses and violations of the public trust."

The firm's May 31, 1965 report to stockholders lists "the honorable Sam Jones, land commissioner, state of Arkansas" as a director.

Jones said Thursday night he had never been "active" in the firm.

"I don't know why the press has given the punk so much time," Jones said. "You can quote me on that."

Jones said he had nothing to do with his name being listed as a director.

"I never knew that I was," he said. "I found out through a brochure and asked them to take me off."

King said in his order that the company's stock was sold by the company itself, not on the market. His order lists numerous findings, including that $6.8 million in assets listed by the company in a report to stockholders dated May 31, 1965, virtually were non-existent.

King said the "assets" included concessions worth $5,078,204 in Atlas-Honduras Oil EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Kyle Haselden, 55, editor of the weekly Christian Century since 1964, died Wednesday night. Before becoming managing editor of the magazine in 1960, he had served American Baptist Convention churches in New York and West Virginia.

Co., which King called "non-existent."

King also found none of the securities issued by the company had been registered for sale in Texas as required by law. He said in his order that the company's officers and directors "attempted to create an artificial market for Atlas-American stock, to stimulate public demand for the stock and to manipulate and inflate the market price."

King also said "no market has ever existed for Atlas-American stock other than the one created and controlled by Atlas-American and its officers, directors and agents." He said sales of stock "have tended and would tend to work a fraud upon any purchaser, thereof" and that the firm was insolvent.

Bradley Bourland, former Texas Securities Commissioner, was listed as legal counsel for the firm. Bourland was one of 13 persons indicted in Abilene, Tex., Sept. 12 on charges of swindling 22 churches of about $5 million.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Travis said the churches issued bonds to obtain construction money, but received only a fraction of the bonds' face value.

HELEN HELP US!

THESE LETTERS BROUGHT BIGGEST REACTION

Dear Helen: You mentioned which letters brought the greatest reaction. Please tell us which brought the biggest overall response from your readers, in recent months. — CURIOUS

Dear Curious: Three letters, written over the summer months, were stand-outs for response. And — surprise, surprise — not one of them had anything to do with sex!

The working wife-Social Security benefits controversy brought the biggest reaction. Representative Edward Patten writes me that he has received many thousands of letters in support of his H.R. Bill 17532, and they are still coming. (The bill would update Social Security to recognize married working women, and provide the payment of benefits to married couples based on their combined earnings, if this would produce a higher benefit. It would not raise taxes appreciably.)

Next on the reaction tally came answers to the question, "Why shouldn't 18-year-olds get the vote?" More than nine-tenths of adults as well as teens insisted they should, and gave excellent reasons why.

Third? Poltergeists. You'd be shook at how many people believe in those pesky ghosts. Here's an example:

Dear Helen: I have read the different opinions on poltergeists. Want to add I once owned a poltergeist-infested house in Hanford, California.

These ghosts would announce their intention of roaming through the house by light tapping on the back bedroom door. Then there would be footsteps. Their favorite trick was to jump hard on your feet after you were asleep. Even guests experienced this.

I never saw these "things" but our small daughter reported one morning that she'd seen company in the front room the night before — a woman in a rocking chair, and two men walking around. I let her think they were friends, so she wouldn't be frightened.

I was glad to move out. I guess the poltergeists stayed, as we were never bothered again. — L.P.

... Anyone for E.S.P.? — H.

Dear Helen: "Animal Lover" mentioned how sad it is that animals are born to be destroyed.

Delighted With Her Acquisition

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The countess giggled.

That was just one of the signs that an Arkansas-of-sorts was thoroughly delighted when her acquisition of a title of royalty and, particularly, the husband who came with it.

"He's wonderful," she said. He is Count Dusan Grof Pejic, a Yugoslavia-born, blood member of a royal family which centered in France after the takeover of their native land during World War II.

She is the former Roberta Lynne Russell, who became the wife of the count in an elegant garden wedding at the Fort Smith home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Russell.

Russell came from Ohio to Fort Smith with the Whirlpool Corp., for which he is manager of data processing.

Countess Pejic — pronounced Payeck — has been associated with Arkansas only during several summers and Christmases, and has been busy most of her time studying in California and in France.

In an interview, she explained with obvious happiness how she and her husband-to-be met while studying — she French, he phonetics — in Paris last year.

"It wasn't exactly love at first sight," she volunteered. "But we liked each other very well from the beginning."

She was living far outside Paris and the trip to and from school involved a subway ride of 1½ hours and a walk of 20 minutes.

"When he found out how far I had to go home in the evening he insisted on accompanying me and delivering me right to my door, and then he had to make the trip back," said Countess Pejic, 22. "European men, the European custom, you know, is to be more protective of women. I found that charming."

They became better acquainted one day, with no hint given to her, Count Pejic wrote her father in Fort Smith: "Excuse me, I know this is very strange and not your custom, but I simply can't go to this girl and speak of marriage with her without your permission."

Permission granted, and custom satisfied, he turned to her and they began a 7½ month engagement culminating in the wedding last Aug. 18.

It was not until after they were engaged that she learned he was a count.

"His brother just mentioned it one day, asking how I liked the idea of becoming a countess," she recalled. "I gasped 'What!' He just never thought to mention it before then."

The count, who "manages a little in English," came to the United States on a tourist visa, but is getting it changed to a resident visa so the couple can live here for a year or so before going back to Paris.

He is fluent in French, German, Yugoslavian and Russian and also speaks some Czechoslovakian, she said, while he is fluent in English, French, and speaks some Spanish and German. They communicate mostly in French.

Living in this country, Count Pejic has seen some things while run to the extreme so far as they relate to the customs he has known.

"He's had a terrible revolt against American women," said the countess. "He does when he sees them in curlers and pants. He can't take that. And oh, another thing — any woman that would talk back to her husband."

To the count and his customs, she said, the man's role is dominant — he declines to let her drive the automobile when he is available to handle it.

"When he has an opinion, that's it — God's word," she said. "You know."

"But there's something else that should be explained, and that is that there is a loving, protective thing the way he thinks of me, keeps me on a pedestal. It goes hand in hand. It is very feminine, very loved, very soft."

She finds the subjugated position "rather enjoyable," said the countess, "and more feminine — much more feminine than I imagine most American women feel. It's because he's European and European women tend to be more feminine — and husbands tend to make them more feminine."

He has several homes in various parts of the world. Some day they plan to go to Yugoslavia and, like other tourists who enjoy the opportunity, take a tour of the castle that once belonged to his family.

Employment is not a financial necessity for them, she said. He plans to some day become a professor, making use of his wide-ranging education, said the countess. Her role will be the royal version of housewife, with her nonfamily activities to include private musical performances — she is trained in the piano, violin and French horn.

The count also is musically adept "as a listener," she smiled.

She has been exposed some of the most renowned "good music" instructors in France, she said, but doubts that the count would allow her to play in public for money.

"I think he would agree to charity performance if one presents itself," she said.

Their young marriage has not met with much hardship, but there was at least a moment of difficulty during their honeymoon trip, which was chartered from Mexico and California.

"Our car broke down in the Mohave Desert," she said. "We got somebody to push us back to the only service station for miles around, and the boy there, he robbed us blind. He said we had to have this and that, and that it would cost so much to get it done by night."

Television and Radio

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Beau Bridges was 8, he made his film debut in an ever-to-be-forgotten jungle epic in which his sire was a wild gorilla.

Quite sensibly, he retired from acting soon afterward. Now he is 28 and making a comeback. This time the kid might make it. At least Norman Jewison, who is directing Beau in "Gaily, Gaily," thinks so:

"I'm not one for making rash predictions, but I think Beau is going to be one of our great stars. He fits into the antihero pattern of today: He's nice looking, but not overly handsome — the same quality that Steve McQueen has. Besides, he has a great sense of humor, and he's got his feet on the ground."

Naturally. The son of actor Lloyd Bridges, and brought up in Hollywood, he seems to have escaped the psychoses of many movie children.

He was born here three days after Pearl Harbor Day. In her semiconscious post-delivery state, the boy's mother tried to give him the name as Beau, after a character in "Gone With the Wind." When the nurse protested that such a name wasn't appropriate, Mrs. Bridges said, "Oh, make it Lloyd Bridges fall.

"Then dark came and he wasn't through, but he left. He said he had to go home and sleep, I said you can't do this, what are we going to do? So he brought us a blanket, said we could sleep in the service station. And he pointed to a drawer and said the revolver was there if anyone tried to break in or snakes came crawling in," she said.

So there they slept, after the count quieted her with the words: "There's nothing else we can do, so lie down and go to sleep."

This rather dignified acceptance of what fate has dealt is typical of royalty as she has experienced it, she said.

"Like the castle in Yugoslavia," she said. "They left it when he was nine months old. They didn't go back. They just said: There's nothing we can do. Let's forget it. And they accepted their fate."

Not having lived for much time in Arkansas, she has yet to acquire while she calls the "rather delightful accent" of the people hereabouts.

The move into royalty's ranks is, she said, "all exciting, but I'm more excited about being married than being a countess."

Her 13-year-old sister, Kim, may have her own opinion. "She keeps wanting to know if he has a brother," the countess laughed. "She's already excited about getting married someday and she just may hold out for royalty."

She has been exposed some of the most renowned "good music" instructors in France, she said, but doubts that the count would allow her to play in public for money.

"I think he would agree to charity performance if one presents itself," she said.

Television and Radio

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Beau Bridges was 8, he made his film debut in an ever-to-be-forgotten jungle epic in which his sire was a wild gorilla.

Quite sensibly, he retired from acting soon afterward. Now he is 28 and making a comeback. This time the kid might make it. At least Norman Jewison, who is directing Beau in "Gaily, Gaily," thinks so:

"I'm not one for making rash predictions, but I think Beau is going to be one of our great stars. He fits into the antihero pattern of today: He's nice looking, but not overly handsome — the same quality that Steve McQueen has. Besides, he has a great sense of humor, and he's got his feet on the ground."

Naturally. The son of actor Lloyd Bridges, and brought up in Hollywood, he seems to have escaped the psychoses of many movie children.

He was born here three days after Pearl Harbor Day. In her semiconscious post-delivery state, the boy's mother tried to give him the name as Beau, after a character in "Gone With the Wind." When the nurse protested that such a name wasn't appropriate, Mrs. Bridges said, "Oh, make it Lloyd Bridges fall.

"Then dark came and he wasn't through, but he left. He said he had to go home and sleep, I said you can't do this, what are we going to do? So he brought us a blanket, said we could sleep in the service station. And he pointed to a drawer and said the revolver was there if anyone tried to break in or snakes came crawling in," she said.

So there they slept, after the count quieted her with the words: "There's nothing else we can do, so lie down and go to sleep."

This rather dignified acceptance of what fate has dealt is typical of royalty as she has experienced it, she said.

"Like the castle in Yugoslavia," she said. "They left it when he was nine months old. They didn't go back. They just said: There's nothing we can do. Let's forget it. And they accepted their fate."

Not having lived for much time in Arkansas, she has yet to acquire while she calls the "rather delightful accent" of the people hereabouts.

The move into royalty's ranks is, she said, "all exciting, but I'm more excited about being married than being a countess."

Her 13-year-old sister, Kim, may have her own opinion. "She keeps wanting to know if he has a brother," the countess laughed. "She's already excited about getting married someday and she just may hold out for royalty."

THIGH HIGH BOOTS are a fashion forecast from Paris. French designer Durer predicts women will be bootied more than ever before.

III."

But he has been Beau to his family and friends and managed to survive the juvenile ragging about "B.O." After his jungle epic and a small role in "The Red Pony," his parents thought it would be better if he continued his education without the distraction of being an actor.

Beau attended Venice High School and spent two years at UCLA, playing occasional roles in television, including his father's series, "Sea Hunt." Then he landed a small but continuing part in the series "Ensign O'Toole."

"But I was getting involved with a girl, and I feared for my plan to remain a bachelor until I was 30," he recalls. "I asked the producer to be released so I could get away to the University of Hawaii. I stayed for one semester, and I defeated my own purpose. I missed the girl so much that I came home and married her."

Tigers Even Series With Cardinals

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The Tigers are back in Detroit today, eager to bring to their kind of park the kind of game that crushed the St. Louis Cardinals and tied the World Series at one game each.

Following an informal discussion that helped thaw their first-game freeze, the Tigers whipped the Cardinals 8-1 Thursday behind the six-hit pitching of Mickey Lolich and the home run slugging of Lolich Willie Horton and Norm Cash.

The performance was completely different from the one the Tigers put on Wednesday when they eked out five hits against Bob Gibson. Only one was an extra base blow, which was unusual for the club that led the American League with 185 homers during the season.

But their uprising against Nelson Briles and three relief pitchers was more like the game they're used to playing in the smaller Tiger Stadium, where the Series resumes Saturday.

"In the first game, I was more nervous than I've ever been since my first day with the club," said Al Kaline, who joined Detroit right out of high school in 1953.

Kaline and first baseman Cash, a nine-year Tiger, agreed that was the general malady that struck the Tigers in the first game loss, and then they did something about it.

"We had dinner together Wednesday night," Kaline explained, "and we talked about how everyone was trying too hard. We said we had to talk to these guys and relax them, get them to play the kind of game we played all year."

"We had a lot of time when we got to the park so we just sat around talking . . . about going for base hits and playing our kind of game and not worrying about anything. You could tell from the time we went on the field that everyone was more relaxed."

"Then when Willie hit the home run, it gave us a big lift. It broke the jinx, or whatever you call it, and gave us momentum. We were confident we could win. Then when Lolich hit one, it was too much to expect."

Horton connected off Briles in the second inning and Lolich in the third. For Lolich, it was the first of his six-year major league career. Three innings later, Detroit broke the game open with a three-run burst.

"You have to give Lolich a lot of credit," said Cash, who collected three of Detroit's 13 hits. "He held them for five innings while we were getting started. Then we went to our game, which is knocking the ball all over the country."

It will be up to Ray Washburn, 14-8, to keep the ball in Tiger Stadium in Saturday's third game when he pitches against Earl Wilson, 13-12. Gibson and Denny McLain then pick up their duel Sunday.

Briles' trouble was he didn't have good stuff and as Gibson noted, "This club is more capable of hitting home runs than say, the Dodgers. If you don't have good stuff, they're going to hit home runs."

At the same time, Lolich, who won two fewer games than the 19 Boiles did during the season, was effective in all but the sixth inning when St. Louis scored its run.

Lou Brock singled, stole his first of two bases, went to third on Curt Flood's infield single and scored as Orlando Cepeda blooped his first hit of the series.

er explained, "I was woozy all day. I thought Mayo might go with somebody else. Now I'm glad he didn't."

He was especially glad because of the home run that sailed about 345 feet into the left field stands. It was the first time he ever had to run around the bases in the majors.

Bobkittens Fight Back, Beat Camden

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer
Showing once more their ability to fight back against the odds, the Hope Bobkittens got back in the winning column last night by tripping the surprisingly tough Camden Panther Cubs 14-12 in Hammons Stadium.

Both of the Bobkittens' touchdowns were scored when Hope was trailing, as the locals ran their season mark to 3-1. Next week the Kittens have an open date, returning to action on the 17th at home against presently unbeaten Nashville.

It was the first game all year in which Hope came out short in the statistical charts, but nobody minds that. Camden surprised with a tremendous outside running game which was successfully held down to 78 yards with no breakaway plays. Meanwhile the Bobkittens racked up all of their 133 yards on the ground.

After losing the toss, the Kittens' kickoff was returned to the Camden 41, where the visitors set up camp. They decided to start the fireworks early, and they were very effective in doing so. Quarterback Pete Pickett pitched out to halfback Kim Morris, who stopped and fired a strike to slotback Teddy Willis.

Willis was 20 yards behind the Hope secondary, and scored easily to complete the 59-yard play. The point — after try was stopped, but Camden had the quick 6-0 lead with only 38 seconds gone by. So once again the local fans set back, hoping for a Bobkitten scoring drive.

They did better than that. Tommy Miller took the kickoff and sped to the 30, where he handed off to Steve Harris and took the whole Camden team with him. Ray Wheelington was closing behind, angling the other way, and when he took the ball from Harris he only had to fake out one defender as he breezed 70 yards for the tying score.

Miller ran the PAT, and the Kittens led 7-6 with only a minute and two seconds past. Camden took the next kickoff and drove down the field, controlling the ball until the Hope defense rose to halt them at the Bobkitten 13-yard stripe. The Hope offense drove for one first down, but a missed handoff cost the Bobkittens the pigskin when Camden recovered on the locals' 37.

It took the Panther Cubs ten plays to cover the distance, with Paul Tanner carrying it over from the one for the go-ahead score. However, the kick was wide to the left, and Camden only led 12-7 with 7:25 left in the half.

The rest of the second period was uneventful, with no threatening advances. Still leading 12-7, Camden had to kick off to the fired up Bobkittens to open the last half. The kick was an on-sides boot, and the Panther Cubs recovered it at the Hope 45.

On first down, though, Bobkittens came from everywhere to snag Morris on an end sweep, and his fumble was recovered by Hope's Lynn Norton at the Camden 45. By the way, Norton was celebrating his birthday yesterday, so he got a nice present.

For nearly six long minutes the Bobkittens wasted time while crawling toward the Camden goal. Then with 3:12 left in the quarter Hope faced a crucial 4th and four situation from the Panther Cub 9. Wheelington came up with the big play on this one, blasting to the three for the first down. Two plays later it was quarterback Steve Harris going over from the one, and Wheelington ran the extra point to put Hope out ahead 14-12.

From thence forward the Bobkittens played a perfect game of ball control, not punting for the first time in the entire game until the last four minutes. The clincher was a 35-yard drive out of deep territory by the Bobkittens, which allowed a punt to push Camden back. The Panther Cubs' last rally ended with an interception by Bobkitten David Sanders at the Hope 38, and ten seconds later it was all over.

It was a good all-around team performance, combining the hard running of Miller (40 yards) and Wheelington (88 yards) with the good, crisp blocking of such linemen as Tim White, Bill Moore, Rodney Burke, and David Sanders, Norton and Burke led the defense, and the secondary also turned in one of its best games.

Now 3-1 after six weeks of hard practicing, the Kittens will profit greatly from the off week, and their next opponent will not go un-remembered. Nashville edged the Kittens 6-0 in Scrapperland last year, and it was one of the juniors' most bitter losses of last season.

Porks Hope to Make It 10 Straight

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
For nine straight autumns the hogs have butchered the Horned Frogs. Pitch a helmet on the field and the Texas Christians turn to jelly was the word in the Ozarks.

Now comes the moment of truth again Saturday night for TCU as Arkansas, riding the momentum of victories over Oklahoma State and Tulsa, invades Fort Worth in the only Southwest Conference game of the day.

Coach Fred Taylor sums up how the Horned Frogs feel about the game: "I'm ready to get a victory. I feel like our team wants this game real badly."

A near-sellout crowd of over 40,000 is expected to be on hand in Amon Carter Stadium. Suddenly, there has been a surge of optimism in the Horned Frog camp. After an opening loss to Georgia Tech, TCU seemed to come alive last week behind a sophomore signal caller Ted Fay—and the thunderous runs of Norman Bulach, the SWC's leading ground gainer.

But Taylor realizes the Razorbacks are a high-octane bunch with sophomore Bill Montgomery spanning new life into the Arkansas attack along with high-scoring David Dickey.

"They're just a lot better than they were last year," said Taylor. "They're a very explosive team. They've just been real high for us every year. They seem to build their whole season around this game. I think they tell 'em this is their bowl game or something."

The other six loop teams will be trying to do something about a 5-6-3 mark in intersectional warfare.

Texas hosts Oklahoma State Saturday night in Austin and the Longhorns could possibly have a new quarterback at the helm Texas coach Darrell Royal is tinkering with the idea of starting junior James Street instead of Bill Bradley, the senior who has been plagued by fumbles and interceptions this year. The Longhorns (0-1-1) are touchdown favorites over OSU, leading the Cowpokes 8-1 in the all-time series.

The Texas Aggies travel to Tallahassee, Fla., Saturday night to meet Florida State, a club that defeated them 19-18 last year. A&M (1-1) is a slight favorite over the Seminoles who have one of the best flankers in the nation in shift Ron Sellers.

Southern Methodist (1-1) entertains tough North Carolina State (2-1) in the Cotton Bowl. It will be a battle of the quarterbacks. Chuck Hixson, SMU sophomore, is the national passing leader and left-handed Jack Klebe of the Wolfpack owns the school record for the most passes. The day game is rated a tossup.

Rice (0-1-1) meets rugged Tennessee in Houston Saturday night. It should be a wild offensive struggle with Robby Shelton the Rice quarterback trading touchdowns with Richmond Flowers the speedy Volunteer back. Tennessee is the favorite.

Texas Tech (1-0-1) comes off its upset victory of Texas to play Colorado State in Lubbock. It will be no ordinary intersectional contest as the game counts in the Western Athletic Conference standings for the Rams. The Red Raiders will be favored.

Crippled Baylor (0-2) limps to Baton Rouge, La., Saturday night to meet Louisiana State which has already whipped two SWC teams—A&M and Rice.

Malvern, Hope Here Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer
There always comes the crucial time of reckoning, and for the Hope Bobcats tonight is the time, as the Malvern Leopards invade Hammons Stadium for a 4-AA Western Division showdown at 7:30 p.m.

For four days the Bobcats have been privately making amends for the 13-6 embarrassment last week in Smackover, and tonight they attempt to make them public. Looking across the Hope roster, it's easy to tell that those starting seniors will be in there with their best.

Their Leopards tonight bring forth the most impressive size that Hope fans will see all year, and probably the most speed. Malvern is the favorite, too, and it will be easy to see why when they begin action this evening. Practically the only solid hope for the Bobcats is that those big Leopards won't be very quick and maybe not too emotionally prepared for the contest.

On the other hand, Hope is looking forward to the game with eagerness, even though the possibilities are good that they will be playing on a wet field. A damp underfooting would be an admitted disadvantage to the Bobcats, but both teams' strongpassing attacks could be easily effected.

For the Bobcats, Rodney Jones will probably not start at slotback, though he may see some action, before the game is over. Sophomore Sidney Waller did well against Smackover and will be a very adequate replacement. Since Mickey Allen will not be at full speed, he will only resume his duties at noseman on defense.

This situation, coupled with a badly bruised elbow suffered by Carroll Beck last week, prompted the coaching staff to move fullback Jim Alford back into the line at weakside tackle. Alford led the Bobcats in rushing against Smackover and is a good blocker, but he will give the Bobcats more depth in the line, where he started at guard last year.

In Alford's place at fullback has been moved Mike Monroe, a hard-fighting senior who can also work the option pass. Mike started earlier in the season at defensive end, and has played some at fullback. Coach Ronnie Higgins said that he was very pleased with Monroe's progress at fullback, as well as the other personnel changes.

Malvern beat the Bobcats last year 27-0 in a game that was much closer than the score indicated. It was only 7-0 at the half, and it took several interceptions and fumble recoveries to break it open for the Leopards late in the game. This time should be different.

Earlier in the week it was quite

Briles Knew When Lolich Hit Homer
By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Nelson Briles knew the Tigers had power, but it took Detroit pitcher Mickey Lolich's home run to convince the St. Louis Cardinal right-hander he didn't have anything.

Briles sat at his locker and talked about the three home runs he had given up as the Tigers evened the World Series at one game apiece with a 8-1 victory Thursday over the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Lolich's home run proved right there I didn't have very good stuff," Briles admitted. "I tried to get the ball in on a hitter and it went out over the plate. Today was just typical of the last month of the season for me."

Briles won 19 games during the regular season, missed 20 because of a bad September. All three homers came off fastballs.

"I gave it all I had," Nellie said, "which evidently wasn't too much."

Willie Horton's second-inning homer was off "a very good pitch," Briles said. "It was down and it was away."

Then Lolich hit his in the third inning. "I never get embarrassed when anybody does anything," Briles stressed, "because they're here for a reason and when anything happens, you have to give them credit."

Somebody mentioned that the crowd was shocked by Lolich hitting his first major league home run in the game.

"Then I really knew I was in trouble," Briles agreed. Joe Hoerner still was smiling, though he had given up three straight walks in relief to force in two runs.

hard to imagine the Bobcats pulling off the upset over Malvern, but it now seems quite feasible that Hope could pull off the win. As a matter of fact, they will, much to the surprise of everyone concerned. Playing a hunch, I label it a 14-13 shocker for the Bobcats, in a game also to be broadcast live over KXAR.

Razorback Shoats Beat SMU 22-15

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — The Arkansas Shoats, held without a first down during the third period, put together a 57-yard scoring drive in the final quarter and edged the SMU freshmen 22-15 here Thursday night.

The victory owes the Shoats' first over SMU in the past four years.

Mikes Saint of Texarkana capped the final touchdown drive by blasting 16 yards on a draw play. The play fooled the SMU defense and Saint scored standing up. Steve Hockersmith's 14-yard run set up Saint's touchdown.

Walter Nelson, a teammate of Hockersmith's at Little Rock Hall, tossed a two-point conversion pass to Roy Fears following Saint's touchdown. Nelson's arm also accounted for the Shoats' first two touchdowns.

Olympics on in Spite of Rebellion

By JERRY LSKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The 19th Olympiad is like a tale of two cities, one of friendly athletic youth of the world and the other of riot-blooded Mexican college students.

And Thursday an amazing 81-year-old man, President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee, apparently prevented the first cancellation of the Games because of a youth rebellion.

With the start of the Olympics only nine days off, Brundage took the word of reassuring Mexican authorities and proclaimed the Games would start as scheduled despite the most recent bloody gun battle between military and militant students Wednesday night.

Brundage, who next week may be elected to serve four more years in the IOC presidency he has held since 1952, issued a brief but straight-forward statement for which several hundred members of the world press clamored for hours Thursday.

"The Games of the 19th Olympiad, a friendly gathering of the youth of the world in amicable competition, will proceed as scheduled," said Brundage's statement issued in English, French and Spanish.

"We have conferred with the Mexican authorities and we have been assured that nothing will interfere with the peaceful entrance of the Olympic flame into the stadium on Oct. 12, nor with the competitions which follow."

Asked what measures could prevent still a third major outbreak of bloody violence in the drawn-out, bitter student strike, Brundage said:

"We must rely on the prevailing of proper authority against disorder, or we no longer have authority."

halfback from Hamburg, set up the first touchdown with a fumble recovery at the SMU 39. Nelson's pass to flanker Robert Daw of Warren covered the distance in one play. Bill McClard converted.

The Shoats drove 82 yards for their second touchdown. Nelson passed 44 yards to Hockersmith for the score, and McClard kicked good.

Figures Hogs Will Again Beat Frogs

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The University of Arkansas has two streaks working against TCU, and both could come to a sudden halt Saturday night at Fort Worth, Tex., in the traditional Southwest Conference opener for both teams.

The Hogs have knocked off the Horned Frogs in their last nine meetings and, for emphasis, have blanked the Frogs the past three years.

Frank Broyles said before the season started that he didn't know how well the Razorbacks could combat a solid ground attack.

TCU has one of the best, or should it be two.

The Horned Frogs' running game is outstanding because of Boss Montgomery and Norman Bulach. Both weigh around 220 and both have genuine sub-10 ft speed.

Bulach is the top rusher in the conference with 251 yards on 33 carries—an average of 7.6 yards a try. Montgomery, who finished second in the SWC last year, has gained 156 yards in 36 attempts.

And, last week's come-from-behind victory over Iowa is found to help the Frogs mentally.

However, the Razorbacks can also move the football. The Porkers have scored 88 points while rapping Oklahoma State University and Tulsa.

Arkansas' passing attack would be the difference.

ARKANSAS 21, TCU 14.

Arkansas State University also has a string going. The Indians should make it five in a row over Tennessee Tech Saturday night at Jonesboro, although coach Bennie Ellender says a freshman quarterback James Hamilton will not start because of an injured ankle. Hamilton has guided the Indians to two straight victories.

ASU 14, TENNESSEE TECH 1.

Arkansas AM&N suffered a 1-8 upset last week at the hands of Lincoln, Mo. The Golden Lions aren't apt to find things any easier Saturday against Jackson State at Jackson, Miss.

JACKSON STATE 27, AM&N 1.

The big game in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference matches Arkansas Tech and Henderson, two of the pre-season favorites, at Russellville. It will be Henderson's conference opener. Tech stopped Arkansas A&M 17-0 last week.

TECH 14, HENDERSON 10.

Last week's percentage was .857. Here's how we see the remainder of the AIC games.

SOUTHERN STATE 14, HARDING 7.

STATE COLLEGE 20, SOUTHWEST MISSOURI 10.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE 13, OUACHITA 10.

A chantey is a song sung by sailors in rhythm with their work. The leader or chanterman sings a line and the sailors join in singing the chorus.

Above are four unknown football heroes that never share in the spotlight, but do an essential job for the squad. They are the managers, who for one reason or another, cannot play in the actual game, but still love the game enough to do an awful lot of work.

Dome Tough Also on TD Passes

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was hard to hit home runs in the Astrodome during the summer and it may be even tougher to throw them this fall.

A major test will come tonight when 12th-ranked Houston, with a pass defense that rates fifth nationally and is led by Johnny Peacock with three interceptions, entertains Cincinnati.

The "Bears' quarterback, Greg Cook, is among the passing leaders with 33 completions in 62 attempts for 419 yards. Houston's ground game, featuring Paul Gipson's 288 yards and four touchdowns, ranks fourth in the country.

The weekend's best matchup comes Saturday night in Los Angeles when O.J. Simpson, off to the second-fastest ground-gaining start in history, and second-ranked Southern California run into—and possibly over and around—Miami of Florida, ranked 13th, and its great defensive end, 6-foot-8 Hendricks. Both were All-Americans last season.

The Simpson-Hendricks duel Saturday night is a figure filbert's delight. Simpson has scored all of Southern Cal's seven touchdowns and is tied for the national scoring lead with 42 points in two games.

His 425 yards rushing is only No. 3 nationally but the two in front of him have both played three games.

On the other hand, Miami is seventh in rushing defense and tied for seventh in scoring defense, having yielded only 14 points in two games. Last week, Hendricks recovered two fumbles and anchored a defense that held Georgia Tech to minus three yards rushing in the second half.

Saturday afternoon naturals find West Virginia, whose quarterback, Mike Sherwood, is third in total offense and fifth in pass completions, at third ranked Penn State, second in both total defense and rushing defense, and Florida, No. 5 in The Associated Press poll and No. 9 in total defense, hosting aerial-minded Mississippi State, whose Sammy Milner is fifth in pass-catching with 17 receptions for 198 yards.

Fifth-ranked Notre Dame, a passing terror, is at Iowa, eighth in pass defense.

The Fighting Irish dropped three places in The AP poll after losing to Purdue a week ago, but they're third in total offense and eighth in passing, and quarterback Terry Hanratty is sixth in individual total offense and fourth in pass completions while split end Jim Seymour is seventh in receptions.

Purdue, the No. 1 team in the nation, is at Northwestern for a Big Ten clash. The Boilermakers, led by halfback Leroy Keyes, quarterback Mike Phipps and split end Bob Dilligham, are eighth in both total offense and scoring, seventh in passing.

Rounding out the Top Ten,

No. 6 Ohio State is at home against Oregon, seventh-ranked Nebraska has the week off, No. 8 Kansas entertains New Mexico, ninth-rated UCLA is at Syracuse and Baylor plays at No. 10 Louisiana State at night.

Alabama, No. 11, is at Mississippi, No. 14 Arizona State travels to Wyoming for a crucial Western Athletic Conference meeting, 17th-ranked Texas A&M plays at Florida State, California, No. 18, hosts San Jose State and Michigan State, ranked 19th, is at Wisconsin.

Saturday night, it's No. 15 Tennessee at Rice, Georgia, No. 16, at South Carolina and No. 20 Arkansas at Texas Christian.

Lolich New Hero for Tiger Fans

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Lolich had two major problems before he went out to get the Tigers even in the second game of the World Series—keeping his mouth shut and his eyes open.

He managed to do the second, but not the first, and that's how the 28-year-old Detroit pitcher became the hero of Thursday's game as he scattered six hits and hit the first homer of his career in an 8-1 victory over St. Louis that tied the series at one victory apiece.

Lolich's problems stemmed from a groin infection he first noticed Wednesday night. And, as soon as he got to the ball park Thursday, he reported to the team doctor.

For the next couple of hours, whenever Lolich opened his mouth someone either showed him a thermometer or some pills. The pills, in turn, were beginning to put him to sleep.

"I was quite groggy from the pills," Lolich explained, "The doctor said my eyes looked like they were going to sleep. He said I might run out of gas in the middle of the game and that I might get a headache at any time."

"I didn't get the headache. But I was woozy all day."

However, Lolich claimed the situation only served to make him a more effective pitcher.

"What happened because of that was I was so concerned about the infection I had no chance to be nervous and with all those pills making me groggy and the energy out of my body, I was completely relaxed."

"Another thing was that I didn't have enough energy to throw as hard as I usually do and as a result, my fastball was sinking more."

The fun-loving motorcycle enthusiast, who has five bikes and a 1½-mile track on a plot of land near his home, told how he became a lefthander as the result of a childhood accident.

"I drove my tricycle off a curb and hit the kickstand of a parked motorcycle," Lolich explained. "The bike came down on top of me and I was pinned with it on my chest. I survived with only a broke collarbone."

Figures TCU Backs Best in Conference

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Coach Charles Coffey, architect of the Arkansas defense, is dutifully impressed by the long runs of TCU's Norman Bulach and Ross Montgomery.

However, he's even more impressed with their short yardage gains.

"That's the thing that impressed us against Georgia Tech and Iowa," he said. "They'd run up in there where there wasn't anything and make three or four yards. And, that's when it's played well."

"They are two of the finest and strongest running backs we've seen," says Coffey. "Normally a football team has one outstanding runner, but we've facing two of them this week. Not only are they good runners, but they're great blockers."

Montgomery is 6-foot-3, weighs 224 and has 9.7 speed. Bulach is 6-foot-2, weighs 217 and has 9.6 speed.

"They are bound to be the fastest big ones in any college backfield," says head coach Frank Broyles, "and I don't know off hand of any two like them in one pro backfield."

"We've had some good and bad moments," says Coffey, of the defense, "The secondary has experience and speed but our people up front may not be able to put enough pressure on them."

Coffey said that previously the Razorbacks, employing their monster defense, would look forward to gung up against a team which relied on its running game. The Razorbacks have switched primarily to the 4-3 and Coffey just isn't sure.

"Our first game was against a running football team (Oklahoma State) that had gone to a new offense," he said. "They got behind and started throwing. Then we played a football team (Tulsa) that virtually didn't have a running game. We haven't passed the test yet."

Arkansas has won nine straight from the Frogs but Broyles brushes aside any hint of a jinx.

"Teams change every year," he said. "Every year is a new year to us."

TCU coach Hardy Taylor knows all about the Frogs' losing streak.

"I'm ready to get a victory," he said earlier this week. "I feel like our team wants this game real badly. If Arkansas beats us Saturday night, it's because they have a better team."

use, he was told to continually exercise his left arm to strengthen it. That turned him into a southpaw pitcher.

Lolich posted a 17-3 record this year. But while he still over-ear has won 20, he now has hit his first homer.

The homer came in the third inning and not only startled the crowd of 54,692 but Lolich as well. As the ball sailed into the left field stands, Lolich passed first base. But he had to make a return trip because he had failed to touch the bag.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Face-lifting Operation Considered Luxury Item

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—How much does a face-lifting operation cost? Can only a plastic surgeon do this?

A—That leaves vitamin E and Potaba still untried. One of them may help you.

Q—A doctor says that my wife has neurocirculatory asthenia. Is there any cure for it?

A—This condition may be caused by an emotional disturbance, chronic low-grade infection, hookworm infestation, nutritional deficiency or a hormonal imbalance. The cause must be determined before any treatment can be prescribed.

Q—How long must a person stay in the hospital after a face-lifting operation? Is there any danger involved?

A—The usual stay in the hospital is about a week. There is some danger associated with any operation but barring an infection or some unforeseen complication things should go well.

Q—Is it too late to have a plastic operation on my nose after the age of 50?

A—No, nor after the age of 70 or 90.

Q—What causes Peyronie's disease? Is it true that the only cure for this disease is an operation?

A—The cause of Peyronie's disease or fibrous cavernitis is unknown. In this disease a rigid curvature of the penis occurs and intercourse is painful or impossible. Vitamin E with potassium iodide or potassium para-aminobenzoate by mouth are highly favored in the treatment. The results of operation have not been satisfactory.

Q—I have had cortisone shots and X-ray therapy for Peyronie's disease but neither has helped me. What do you recommend?

A—Potaba is a combination of potassium aminobenzoate and pyridoxine. Some authorities believe it to be the best drug for this disease. The condition is not a forerunner of cancer.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—When did the United States abandon the gold standard?
A—On April 19, 1933, an embargo was placed on all gold shipments by executive order of President F. D. Roosevelt. This in effect took the United States off the gold standard.
Q—What was the worst ship disaster in U.S. history?
A—The explosion of the steamer Sultana on the Mississippi River, April 27, 1865. The loss of life was 1,450.

MIRACLE of Light

"My Compass"

Just who among us can fathom the miracle of light? The ministries of the sun are many. A single ray can be concentrated to explosive intensity. The sun gives off a burning heat we could not do without. Light, warmth, growth, health and healing are daily ministries of the sun. The earth becomes sour and barren without it. In this same manner man limits his strength and usefulness when he turns away from God. Let us wait and pray in the sanctuary of His church, for in such waiting and worship, God promises to bless man's soul as does the sunlight bless the earth. We should strive to capture the rays from God like the prism does the sunlight, and direct it to good and wholesome uses. Then, they who wait upon the Lord may run and not grow weary. They may walk and not faint (Isaiah 40:31).

LEGAL NOTICE
PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 55
(Legislative)
FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO DESIGNATE THE COUNTY JUDGE OF EACH COUNTY AS THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER OF THE COUNTY; TO REVISE THE DUTIES OF THE COUNTY COURT; AND TO AUTHORIZE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PRESCRIBE THE NUMBER OF JUSTICES OF THE PEACE TO BE ELECTED IN THE SEVERAL COUNTIES.
BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas, and by the Senate, a majority of all the members elected to each house agreeing thereto:
That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:
SECTION 1. That Section 38 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby amended to read as follows:
"Section 28. (a) The county judge shall be the administrative officer of the county and in his capacity as county administrator the county judge shall, in the manner provided by law; approve the disbursement of money for county purposes; supervise the construction, maintenance and improvement of county roads and bridges, county buildings and other county improvement; make contracts, purchases and sales in behalf of the county; and, perform such additional duties as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall enact laws requiring each county judge to furnish a surety bond on a corporate surety company authorized to do business in this State, in such amount as may be determined by law, for the faithful performance and accounting of all duties imposed upon the county judge as county administrator. Any person aggrieved by any act or omission of the county judge, acting in his capacity as county administrator, may appeal to the circuit court of the county, and from the action of the circuit court may appeal to the Supreme Court.
(b) In addition to his duties as administrative officer of the county, the county judge shall be the judge of the county court. The county court shall have jurisdiction with respect to the internal improvement and local concerns of the respective counties, except in those cases where the jurisdiction of the county judge as administrative officer of the county is provided in sub-section (a) of this section, as may be provided by law.
(c) Until otherwise provided by law, jurisdiction and duties of the county court, existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment, with respect to bastardy, vagrancy, the apprehension of minors and the juvenile court shall be vested in and performed by the chancery court of the county, provided that the General Assembly may vest such duties or jurisdiction in such other courts or departments as may be provided by law.
SECTION 2. That Section 39 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby amended to read as follows:
"Section 39. Every township shall elect at least two justices of the peace and such additional number, based on the number of electors in the township, as may be provided by law. In determining the number of justices of the peace to be elected from each township, the General Assembly may classify the townships of the State into general population groups, with the number to be elected from each group to be based on the classification of the county."

The best player doesn't always make the most tricks. He will over a period of years but on some hands he deliberately adopts a safer line of play to insure his contract.

Take today's hand played by Ralph Chafetz at New York's Mayfair Club. Ralph was in a four-spade contract and, while he had no objection to making an overtrick, his main purpose was to make sure of his contract.

He could count 10 winners without any trouble but his problem was to see that East and West couldn't collect four tricks before he got them.

All else being equal, the right way to play trumps when you miss four to the queen is to play out your ace and king but all else wasn't equal. Ralph wanted to keep East out of the lead because East could lead a club through Ralph's king.

Ralph had to lose a diamond trick in any event. One diamond loser, plus a spade loser, plus two club losers adds up to four defensive tricks.

Ralph wasn't going to let that happen. He won the heart lead. Then he led a trump to dummy's ace and returned the jack. East played low and Ralph finessed. West took his queen and collected his minor suit aces later, but Ralph was perfectly happy. He scored game and rubber.

Suppose that East held the ace of diamonds and got in with that card to lead a club and set Ralph? Ralph had listened to the bidding. West had opened one heart on a jack-high suit. He needed both missing aces to have an opening bid!

The Hope Chamber of Commerce has launched an all out effort to secure new Christmas decorations for Hope Streets. With the cooperation of the Red River Technical School they have been able to build a $75 fixture for only $30.

A sample is now on display at the corner of second and main next to Anderson Frazier Insurance. Inside the window at Anderson Frazier there is a "Christmas Tree" made of light bulbs. When a merchant or individual pledges to buy a fixture at $30 each, another light bulb will be turned on. Stop by and take a look at the fixture and then pledge $30.00 to light the tree, and decorate the streets. The goal is 110 fixtures.

Nixon Backer Challenges HHH Claim

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An adviser to Richard M. Nixon has challenged a Democratic claim that Hubert H. Humphrey is leading the presidential contest in eight states with a total of 136 electoral votes.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, said private polls offered by Democratic National chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien "don't jibe with what the public opinion polls say."

O'Brien said Thursday that party polls show the vice president ahead in Connecticut, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Texas.

"I question that Minnesota is for Humphrey even though it is his home state," Morton said. "We questioned after the session he was vague about the charge."

At first he said the testimony came Tuesday. Then he changed his mind and said it might have been based in part on a closed subcommittee meeting Wednesday. Finally he said he didn't know where he got the testimony.

Thursday's session, the second since the subcommittee opened its investigation this week, was again the scene of bizarre incidents of wild behavior involving groups of partly dressed Yippies of the Youth International Party.

One antiwar witness walked out of the hearing, another refused to answer questions about whether he is a Communist and a Yippie leader was arrested after he showed up in a shirt that police charged was made from an American flag.

Abbie Hoffman denied the charge and said it was merely a

Looks Like Another Loss for St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If Baker is throwing for the St. Louis football Cardinals Sunday, the Red Birds would figure to have a better chance against that Dallas powerhouse.

As Gibson will be busy in Tiger Stadium, it looks like another loss for Charley Winner's Cards, and a fourth straight victory for the Cowboys, highest scoring club in the National Football League.

In fact, the four unbeaten teams in the NFL should come through again. Baltimore has to handle the Chicago Bears, who woke up last week, Los Angeles has to deal with Dick Nolan's aroused San Francisco 49ers and the New York Giants may be pressed by the New Orleans Saints, who are beginning to believe in themselves.

Oakland and San Diego are the two unbeaten in the American Football League. The Raiders should roll over Boston but the Chargers may have their hands full at Shea Stadium against the New York Jets, upset last week in Buffalo.

Last week's record was 9-4, with 5-3 in the NFL and 4-1 in the AFL, or 19-7 for the season. Here we go again with all games Sunday unless otherwise indicated:

NFL

Cleveland 28, Pittsburgh 17—(Saturday night)—Always a tough game although Browns hold a big edge in series. Blanton Collier shifting to Bill Nelson at quarterback. Groggy Steelers still looking for first victory with only 37 points in two games and 120 for the opposition.

Dallas 35, St. Louis 14—Don Meredith hitting the bullseye and that rugged defense is dismembering quarterbacks.

Baltimore 33, Chicago 14—Earl Morrill still doing great job filling in for John Unitas. Bears down to Larry Rakestraw with Jack Concannon out of action.

Los Angeles, 24, San Francisco 17—Always a war and no reason to expect anything different. This is to be played in Coliseum where 49ers scored big upset a year ago, Roman Gabriel vs. John Brodie eyeball to eyeball.

New York 31, New Orleans 21—Giants clicked on all cylinders against Redskins last week with the old Fran Tarkenton-Homer Jones firm back in business.

Green Bay 27, Atlanta 17—Packers, burning after dropping two in a row, in bad mood for Falcons, who will be making debut under Norm Van Brocklin. Detroit 21, Minnesota 20—A real toughie. Lions looking like team to be reckoned with now that Bill Munson is in control. Vikings were riding high until they hit Bears.

Washington 31, Philadelphia 27—All out for the races, Sonny Jurgensen should have field day against Eagle defense and Philadelphia runners should move on Redskins.

AFL

Kansas City 31, Buffalo 14 (Saturday night)—Bills can't figure to get cooperation they got from Joe Namath last week when they intercepted five passes.

San Diego 30, New York 24 (Saturday night)—Unbeaten Chargers will have work cut out for them as Jets rebound from Buffalo disaster.

Oakland 35, Boston 10—Raiders heading for repeat title and Patriots only so-so despite 2-1 record.

Cincinnati 23, Denver 17—Surprising Bengals seem to have edge while Broncos experiment while awaiting return of Steve Tensi.

Houston 30, Miami 10—Oilers played strong game despite loss to Oakland and should handle crippled Dolphins.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The way to be nothing is to do nothing. — Howe said it.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Revival services will begin at the Church of God, North Bell street, Monday night October 7, and continue through Friday night October 11, at 7:30 each night. Sister Earnestine Pondexter of Cooper, Texas will be the evangelist. She will be assisted by Rev. Fred Pondexter and Rev. Thomas also of Cooper, Texas.

The public is invited to attend. Bring your sick and afflicted to be healed. Elder Jesse Graves, pastor.

Women's Day will be observed at Bethel A.M.E. Church Sunday, October 6.

The services will begin with Sunday School, with guest teachers taking charge of some of the classes. Regular worship service will be held at the morning hour. At 3 p.m. a panel discussion will be held on the subject "The Woman's Contribution to a Changing Society". Panelists will be: Mesdames, N. M. Washington, Georgia Hickles, Ila Upchurch, Verna Scott, and E. M. Nelson. Music for the occasion will be rendered by a combined choir of ladies from the churches of the city. Mrs. Velma Muldrew is the Chairman; Rev. J. E. Hughes, pastor.

Says Wallace Not Fit to Be President

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has declared, for all the South to hear, that Alabama's George C. Wallace is not fit to be president of the United States.

But the Republican nominee for the White House acknowledged that the third party candidate could in the end prove to be his major rival in the Nov. 5 election.

Nixon chose a campaign television appearance broadcast across a dozen Southern states Thursday night to level his most direct assault against Wallace.

"We need policies at home that will go beyond simply saying that, well, if somebody lies down in front of my presidential limousine it will be the last one he lies down in front of," Nixon said.

His reference was to a statement Wallace had made repeatedly during his campaign that if he were president and a protester lay down in front of his car, "I will guarantee you it will be the last car they'll ever lay down in front of."

"I don't think anybody who would say that is even fit to be president," Nixon said in an interview later.

Nixon also said for the first time that he would be willing to meet Wallace in two-man, televised campaign debate. But he later added that is not going to happen, and said his comment was made facetiously.

As he has from the beginning, Nixon said campaign debates—if they are to be held—should match him and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

Nixon talked as well of the re-See SAYS WALLACE (on page two)

Free Fish on Beard's Lake Saturday

There will be a total fish kill on Beard's Lake and a partial kill on Yellow Creek on Saturday, October 5, said Game Warden Ben Waller Jr.

The public is invited. Each person present can take only a legal fish limit free of charge, only a fishing license will be required. The kill is being made because the lake is overstocked with rough fish, mainly shad. The lake will be restocked.

The kill will start at 8 a.m.

Pick Your Pet Panic—There Are Plenty of Phobias for Everyone

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Since this has been called "the age of anxiety, your social status may depend on your fears.

Do you have a pet panic? Probably so. Many people do and don't even know it. After all, science has classified hundreds of phobias, and if you can't find one that fits you—well, either you are an exhibitionist or else you are merely trying to be brave.

In the latter case, that's a tip-off to what you really are — a phobophile, one who is afraid of being afraid.

Here are a few more interesting possibilities that may help you classify your deads:

Ever wonder why teenagers usually travel in groups? It's because they all can't stand being alone, and that makes them monophobes.

Are you one of those finicky office workers who complain of a draft every time anyone opens a window? Your trouble is easily diagnosed as aerophobia, the fear of air currents.

Perhaps the sight of a hirsute hippie or a man with a beard stirs revulsion in you. Put yourself down as a trichophobia, one who is afraid of hair. Hippies themselves are hypophobes, those who flee from responsibility.

Most hardened criminals gnaw their fingernails at the thought of having to face a third degree in the back room of a po-

George C. Wallace's selection of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as his running mate has drawn fresh attacks on his third-party campaign, particularly over the use of nuclear weapons.

LeMay, 61, former Air Force chief of staff, told his first news conference as a vice presidential candidate Thursday that "a nuclear weapon is just another weapon in the arsenal."

LeMay said he thinks there are situations where it "would be most efficient to use nuclear weapons."

"I don't think it would be necessary in Vietnam,"

Republican Richard M. Nixon, campaigning in Atlanta, said "I have great respect for Mr. LeMay as an Air Force general. But this kind of reaction shows why it is so important that in the White House, you have a man who recognizes we must have civilian control. The military solutions are often not the right ones."

Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey, campaigning in West Virginia, said: "It would be disastrous if anyone who spoke as Gen. LeMay did this morning should come into a position of high responsibility."

"I never want to see nuclear weapons used anywhere, by anyone—in Vietnam or elsewhere."

Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie declined comment on Wallace's selection of LeMay, but added: "I doubt that he's going to dilute what Wallace means to me. (Wallace) means to me a politics of fear and division."

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the Republican vice-presidential candidate, told Missouri voters: "Your vote is too valuable to waste" on a third party. "Third parties can confuse, but they cannot govern," said Agnew.

But Wallace reaffirmed his support for LeMay after the news conference.

"Gen. LeMay has told me privately that he is against all war," said Wallace. "But when you ask a man whether he can think of any situation where you would use nuclear weapons, that's different. Why, what if somebody attacked us with nuclear weapons? Would you use them?"

LeMay's selection came too late to get the retired general on the ballot in most states in place of former Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin, who was entered to satisfy legal requirements.

But only in Florida and Tennessee do the states' election law give any appearance of binding electors to the listed vice-presidential candidate.

Wall Street Figures Well Rounded

By RAY KOHN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A California brunette is the latest to invade Wall Street in the burgeoning "sweater girl derby" that has developed since a Brooklyn girl turned the street's usually staid bulls and bears into wolves.

Carl Stotts, 36, of Burbank, who measures 47-29-38, stands 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 150 pounds, told newsmen: "We're just going to take a walk down Wall Street at noon."

"I've run into three or four women who are much larger than I am, but they don't have my proportions," Mrs. Stotts said Thursday night.

An employee of an auto agency, she said both her husband and 21-year-old son approve of her venture, which brings her to New York for the first time. Her trip is sponsored by Los Angeles radio station KGIL.

On Thursday, two young ladies from Cleveland, Ohio—both measuring 43-24-37—drew a noontime crowd of 4,000 financiers, brokers, clerks and passersby at the intersection of Broad and Wall Streets.

Shelia Moore, 21, and Suzanne Zulkowski, 25, were brought to Manhattan by Cleveland radio station WIXY to show New Yorkers the intentions which follow.

Drive Has Turned Corner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey says his campaign "turned the corner" during a 15-day push that carried him through wide sectors of the country.

Rallies in Portland and Seattle, Ore., were disrupted by hecklers. He admits Republican Richard M. Nixon is out in front. Lack of money forced him to cancel a batch of television commercials.

Yet Humphrey and his staff were buoyed by the size and enthusiasm of crowds that turned out in San Francisco and Charlotte, N.C. Presidential lieutenant George Ball and Douglass Cater joined the vice president's entourage. The nation's largest union—The Teamsters—gave him formal endorsement.

Democratic polls claimed he's ahead at least in eight states holding 136 of the 270 electoral votes needed for election. And in the wake of his Salt Lake City, Utah, speech advocating a qualified bombing halt, Democratic senators rose in debate to defend Humphrey at nearly the same time 10 House Democrats who had backed war critic Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy announced they now support the vice president.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said: "Humphrey has hit his stride again. He seemed to be uncertain and fumbling before, but now he is the old campaigner we have known in the past."

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield joined others who have predicted McCarthy will endorse Humphrey soon. McCarthy is scheduled to speak Tuesday at a rally for Paul O'Dwyer, a McCarthy backer who is challenging Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., for re-election.

Humphrey made his "turning the corner" assessment Thursday during a wet motorcade through West Virginia, where John F. Kennedy's primary victory ended Humphrey's run for the presidential nomination in 1960.

Humphrey's campaign in West Virginia charged that Republican victory means "recession, depression and unemployment."

"A Republican administration never gave you a dime," he said at a stop while driving through a string of small towns.

"If there's one state that ought to go Democratic, it's West Virginia."

Humphrey was scheduled to spend two days in Washington before going to the World Series in Detroit Sunday.

Lewis Child Still Under Intensive Care

Her father, Robert Lewis, also injured in the accident, is showing improvement in Branch General Hospital here. He sustained chest injury along with six fractured ribs. The Lewis family is from Sulphur, Okla.

Freezing in Northern Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Temperatures dipped below freezing for the first time this fall with a reading of 32 degrees at Fayetteville under clear skies this morning.

But temperatures ranged all the way up to 53 degrees at Texarkana where 1.16 inches of rain fell. El Dorado's low today was 51 with 0.25 inches of rain.

The cold front caused by a low pressure system that plunged Arkansas' pleasant mild temperatures downward is being replaced by a high pressure cold front that contains even colder air.

Testimony Reveals 21 Communists Involved in Chicago Rioting

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee on un-American activities says he has heard testimony that at least 21 Communists were involved in the bloody clashes between antiwar protesters and Chicago police during the Democratic National Convention.

But Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., did not name anyone during a hearing Thursday and when questioned after the session he was vague about the charge.

At first he said the testimony came Tuesday. Then he changed his mind and said it might have been based in part on a closed subcommittee meeting Wednesday. Finally he said he didn't know where he got the testimony.

Thursday's session, the second since the subcommittee opened its investigation this week, was again the scene of bizarre incidents of wild behavior involving groups of wildly

Trolley Cars Burned by Mexicans

By STRATFORD C. JONES
Associated Press Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Students burned trolley cars near an Olympic field and armored cars kept their guns trained on apartment buildings where snipers had holed up, but most of the Mexican capital was quiet Thursday night.

Despite the eruption of the student rebellion into a shooting battle with army troops Wednesday night, the Olympic games still were set to open a week from Saturday.

"As guests of Mexico, we have full confidence that the Mexican people... will join the participants and spectators in celebrating the games, a veritable oasis in a troubled world," said Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, after an emergency meeting of the committee.

A count of casualties at hospitals and police stations showed at least 27 persons killed in Wednesday night's fighting and some Mexico City newspapers reported death tolls as high as 40. There was no official estimate of the number wounded, but it appeared to be in the hundreds. Various sources reported between 1,000 and 1,500 arrested.

Collision in Air Kills 24 Americans

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces killed 150 enemy troops in a new outbreak of heavy fighting near the Cambodian border, along the jungled approaches to Saigon, military spokesmen reported today.

Enemy gunners shot down a U.S. helicopter ferrying ammunition to the embattled South Vietnamese mercenaries in the area. Four Americans were killed and two wounded.

Earlier, U.S. headquarters reported that 24 Americans were killed in the collision of a big Army CH47 Chinook helicopter and an Air Force Caribou cargo plane 11 miles northwest of Hue on the coast. It was one of the worst air collisions of the war. There were no survivors.

The fighting along the Cambodian border, 60 miles northwest of Saigon was triggered at daybreak Thursday when about 400 South Vietnamese civilian irregulars were lifted into the area by American helicopters. They immediately ran into an enemy force of about 800 to 1,000 men.

Two and a half hours later, another 400 South Vietnamese mercenaries were committed to the fight.

Government casualties were put at 15 dead and 44 wounded. The American helicopter was brought down by machine-gunned fire as it was landing. A U.S. Special Forces captain and the crew chief were killed in the flaming wreckage. The pilot and a gunner were killed by enemy rifle fire as they crawled away from the wreckage after pulling out the wounded helicopter commander. The commander, a first lieutenant, and a Special Forces master sergeant, survived with minor wounds.

The new outbreak of fighting broke a week-long lull in ground action along the Cambodian border where the enemy lost 700 men during the last week of September in suicidal attacks on Green Beret camps screening infiltration routes. The enemy troops were believed to be from the Viet Cong 9th Division which has bases inside Cambodia.

In the aerial collision far to the north, headquarters said the Air Force Caribou had just taken off from Camp Evans, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division. Thirteen men were killed aboard the Caribou, including four crewmen. Eleven others were killed on the helicopter, including four crewmen.

Crew Killed in Crash of Bomber

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — A B52 bomber from Minot Air Force Base crashed and burned early today on a farm 12 miles northeast of this north-central North Dakota city.

At least two crew members survived the crash, which occurred about 3 a.m. EDT. The base public relations office said the Stratofortress carried a crew of six.

There was no immediate word of the fate of the four other crewmen.

"I was out of bed like a rock," said Carl Swarthout, 68. "The flames were shooting several hundred feet across the soil bank land."

Swarthout, who lives alone on the farm, said the eight-jet bomber came down 300 to 400 feet from his house.

A few minutes later, the farmer said, two crew members walked to the farmhouse. One appeared to be uninjured. Swarthout said, while the other complained of an elbow injury.

The two airmen stayed in the farmhouse for two hours before an ambulance and fire truck arrived, he said. The crash was still burning three hours after it crashed.

The farmer said the survivor told him that the crash was on a training mission and there were no weapons.

Swarthout quoted one of the crew members as saying: "There was a failure in the side of the engine and the plane started to fall."
